

Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) Phone Reassurance Program

RSVP's Phone Reassurance Program is a lifeline for older members of the community who would like the comfort of a friendly phone call. Trained volunteers provide social connection and ensure the well-being of isolated and vulnerable older adults through consistent phone calls at predetermined times. Calls may be made solely to check on a participant's safety, for the purpose of socializing, or both!

What our participants have to say:

"I look forward to my caller. It is like a friendly visitor, only over the phone."

"She has become a friend to me. It makes me feel safe knowing she is checking on me and will get help if I don't answer her call at the agreed upon time."

"My family members all work, and it makes them feel good that someone is checking on me during the day when they aren't able to."

For more information on how to enroll, please contact Allie Van Haverbeke at 248-559-1147 ext. 3945 or vanhaverbekea@ccsem.org.
